Guidelines for contributors to
*Reitaku Journal of Interdisciplinary Studies

The Reitaku Journal of Interdisciplinary Studies is published annually in fall by the Reitaku International Society of Economic Studies.

Any scholars or researchers, including graduate students, in the areas of the humanities or social and natural sciences are eligible to contribute. Non-members are eligible with a recommendation from a member.

Contributions are categorized as academic papers, research notes, book reviews or others. No manuscript will be considered for publication if it is concurrently submitted to another journal or press.

1. Main Article: 3,000 to 6,000 words
2. Research Note: 2,400 to 4,800 words
3. Book Review: about 1,200 words
4. Others: about 600 words

Manuscripts are to be reviewed by referees appointed by the editorial board. Editorial decisions are to be made within 8 weeks of the date your manuscript is received.

Languages accepted in principle include Japanese and English but may include other languages upon approval of the editorial board.

Texts, quotations, and footnotes should be double-spaced with generous margins. Submit two (2) copies of the complete text and a double-spaced abstract of not more than one page. Footnotes should be numbered consecutively throughout and should appear in a separate section at the end of the text.

Manuscripts and correspondence should be sent to the Editor-in-Chief, Reitaku Journal of Interdisciplinary Studies (RJIS), Reitaku University, 2-1-1 Hikarigaoka, Kashiwa, Chiba, 277-8686, Japan. FAX: 04-7173-1100.
